Last fun read of summer

Children gather around children's Director Cassette Mark Tuesday at Liberal's Memorial Library to read and celebrate the 50th Birthday of Amelia Bedelia this year. The book reading consisted of the new Amelia Bedelia, which is a little girl in the old Amelia Bedelia, and the new Amelia Bedelia. Mark Tuesday is the last fun read of the summer for the children to read in the Bedelia Bedelia. The goal is to have fun, and it's kind of the last fun of the summer. Tel Jeremy/Lamb Advertiser

Kan. Board of Regents mulls concealed carry study

The regents have already taken an immediate-to-month exemption for universities and could do for one that would extend through 2017. At that second extend Tuesday, some regents and a study would be helpful if the board decides to exit exemption in specific areas, the Lawrence Journal-World reported.

Chairman Fred Logan said the regents need to examine if there are areas on campuses where concealed carry should be allowed, such as in athletic events or in classrooms or certain laboratories.

"It's easy to believe that any time ones we are going to give a generalized exemption," Logan said.

Logan said he also wanted that while the regents pass upon the debt's block it was time to allow concealed carry at athletic events.

"At the sporting venue, you have tempers flying and you have alcohol and that is different than a classroom," Morris said.

Regent Ed McMachen took a tougher stand saying he would willing to let legislators feel the board is OK with the new law.

"Just because the Legislature has done something wrong, I don't have that I want to go along with that," McMachen said.
