

Shelby J. Worthey, 67, died Sunday, June 9, 2013, at Kindred Hospital in Amarillo, Texas.

She was born on April 29, 1946, to Charley Andrew and Mildred (Corry) Boston in Salem, Ill.

She married Donald Ray Worthey Feb. 11, 1961, in Xenia, Ill. He preceded her in death.

She graduated from Seward County Community College in 1984 and obtained her LPN in nursing.

She was employed by Wheatridge Park Care Center and Good Samaritan Society of Liberal as an LPN and office nurse. She retired from Southwest Medical Center.

She was a member of Central Christian Church in Liberal.

Survivors include two sons, Criss A. Worthey and wife, Nancy, Kismet, and Michael W. Worthey and wife, Jeanne, Crawfordsville, Ind.; one daughter, Sandra J. Lloyd, Tampa, Fla.; four grandchildren, Charley Worthey, Mikale Bell, Kristen Bussey and Madalyn "Madie" Worthey; and one great-grandchild, Wendy Bell.

She was also preceded in death by her parents and sister Vicki Boston.

• Memorial service will be 10 a.m. Saturday, June 29, at Central Christian Church of Liberal, with Pastors Chuck Scroggs and Ron Davis presiding.

There will be no calling time as cremation has taken place.

Memorials are suggested to the Central Christian Church of Liberal, in care of Brenneman Funeral Home.

Condolences may be sent to www.brennemanfuneralhome.com.