

Who says commissioners don't get out and work?

Friday, 07 June 2013 12:09

County commissioners Randy Malin, left, and Jim Rice jump on the mowers recently while volunteering at the Coronado Museum and Dorothy's House. The Coronado is preparing to start an exhibit on the old Ideal Food Store soon, and if anyone would like to volunteer to help with "chores" at the museum and its grounds, contact JoAnne Mansell at the Coronado.
