

- Special to the Daily Leader

Commemorative T-shirts and buttons to mark the 61st Pancake Day race are now available, as well as new aprons and tote bags.

This year's shirt features a vintage logo from the 1968 Pancake Day program book. The back of some shirt styles features a list of International Race winners from Liberal and Olney from 1950 through 2009.

Shirts are available in short-and long-sleeve sizes for children through adults size 3XL. Shirt colors include Carolina blue, hot pink and light pink. Hoodies in light pink are also on sale.

In addition to a T-shirt, Pancake Day fans will want a commemorative button to add to their collection. The button also serves as admission to the Pancake Breakfast on Feb. 16. A commemorative postal cancellation will be available at the breakfast and at the public reception later that morning at City Hall.

Pancake Day merchandise for sale also includes tote bags, aprons, bandanas, postcards, sno-globes and a variety of other items.
