ABOVE: A fellow rider takes to the water obstacle. This was the second ACTHA CTC ride to benefit Crossroads, a non-profit organization in Liberal that offers children and adults with disabilities the benefits of equine assisted activities. This competitive trail competition was the second in a three series ride to compete for high point buckles and prizes in the open, pleasure and junior divisions. L&T photos/Janie Kitch
