- Provided by Seward County Community College/Area Technical School

The 2013 Measurement and Pipeline Institute is scheduled for Sept. 10-11 at the Seward County Event Center in Liberal.

For 61 years, the combined institute for measurement and pipeline has proven ideal for field operators, technicians, maintenance crews, production supervisors and superintendents.

The institute features a variety of lectures, discussions, demonstrations, hands-on sessions and industry exhibits to inform participants about the maintenance and operation of measurement and pipeline equipment.

Exhibitors will also display products that are on the cutting edge of technology for the measurement and pipeline industry.

Under the guidance of the Petroleum Industry Education Committee and with management support provided by Seward County Community College/Area Technical School in Liberal, the Measurement and Pipeline Institute has gained a national reputation for excellence.

This year's institute brings classes on ABB Totalflow: Basic and Advanced, Basic and Advanced Electricity, Composite Repair, Fisher Roc: Basic, Fisher Roc: Advanced Part 1 and 2, Flame Detection, Line Locating, O2 Monitoring, Smart Pigging, Valve Maintenance, Oilfield Production Measurement, FreeWave, Liquid Measurement, Mysteries of Corrosion, Rectifiers for Dummies, Tank Level Sensors, Tube Bending.
