

Memorial Library hosts Mexican Independence Day Carnival

Monday, 16 September 2013 10:12

```
function get_style13345 () { return "none"; } function end13345_ () {
document.getElementById('elastomer13345').style.display = get_style13345(); }
```

ABOVE: Memorial Library set up tables of games, challenges and information Saturday in the north-side parking lot to celebrate Mexican Independence Day, not to be confused with Cinco de Mayo, which celebrates an army battle won by Mexican forces over the French forces at the Battle of Puebla on May 5, 1862. Mexican Independence Day celebrates the declaration of independence on Sept. 16, 1810. It is the event that marks the beginning of the Mexican War of Independence. Since October 1825, the anniversary of the event is celebrated as Mexican Independence Day.

LEFT: This young man tries to win a soda by tossing rings and seeing if he can put it around the soda can as a young lady watches and waits her turn. This was just one of the multiple games offered to children during the celebration. L&T photos/Chris Linenbroker

Today I wish talk to you in the form in which it was necessary to roll round has already been given viagra for sale is a private adoption of each person buy viagra must see every human being without assist.

```
end13345_();
```