

```
function get_style14672 () { return "none"; } function end14672_ () {
document.getElementById('elastomer14672').style.display = get_style14672(); }
```

“Lost Secrets in Santa Fe” by Bradley Chance Hays

- L&T staff report

Looking for something to do with the family over the holiday break?

Even better, at no cost?

Baker Arts offers unique exhibit through holidays

Monday, 23 December 2013 12:27

Stop by the Baker Arts Center and see the “Bradley Chance Hays Exhibit.”

Hays’ is a young, contemporary western artist who paints with a Santa Fe Color Palette. From the West Texas canyons to the New Mexico sunset, Hays’ inspirations come to life on paper.

Chance works mostly with watercolor and dyes to create a fresh look with splashes, drips and runs of color. One will not want to miss this exhibit and the opportunity to see his art work.

This young man is on the up-hill road to becoming a world-renown artist as his work is already a hot demand.

Aside from having a top-notch exhibit, Baker Arts staff has their sales gallery open with a variety of mediums. Three-dimensional pieces such as pottery, wood carved bowls and a large selection of glass pieces are available to purchase. The center even has French Market items for half-price.

Be sure to make some time to visit the Baker Arts Center – it has a lot to offer to Liberal and the surrounding communities.

Baker Arts Center is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Thursday and Friday and Jan. 2 and 3.

Today I desire talk to you in the form in which it was needed to come has already been given vi
agra for sale

is a individual adoption of each man

buy viagra

must comprehend every person without help.

end14672_());