

Producers browse through some of the various exhibits at the trade show Tuesday at the Gas Measurement Institute at the Seward County Activity Center. In addition to the trade show, classes took place throughout the day, and the institute continued this morning as it wraps up its final day. Daily Leader photo/Robert Pierce