

Long hot summer

Wednesday, 22 September 2010 10:06

ABOVE: A firefighter waters down the area around a trailer frame Tuesday afternoon two miles east of Liberal on Bluebell Road. With temperatures in the mid-90s this week, even though it's in the third week of September, it has produced very dry conditions throughout the county. Thursday will be the official first day of autumn. LEFT: Firefighters prepare to unbundle plastic fencing to ensure sparks were not in the cardboard. The grass fire was extinguished quickly, even as it approached the home in the background. No one was injured in the event, and very little property damage was reported.
