As his Saints continue to prove themselves as a force in the Jayhawk West Conference race, sophomore Kaheem Ransom has stepped to the forefront to lead the charge and was rewarded this week by being named the KJCCC Player of the Week for the second time this season and the fourth time in his career.

Ransom elevated his game this week to lead the Saints to a pair of Jayhawk West Conference wins to remain in the race for a league title.

Ransom scored 19 points and had 6 rebounds Feb. 6 in the Saints 67-60 win over the Colby Trojans and nailed 6 three pointers in a 25-point effort against Pratt in the Beaverdome on Friday.

On the week, the guard from Wichita averaged 22 points 5 rebounds and 3.5 assists per game. He shared the honor this week with Algie Key from Barton who was named the Co-Player of the Week.

Ransom and the Saints will travel to Dodge City Saturday to face the Conquistadors to start the final run of four games in the race for the Jayhawk West title.
