Twenty one percent.

That was all that the Colby Lady Trojans could shoot against Seward Monday in a make-up game.

The Lady Saints had their struggles as well, only connecting on 38 percent of their shots.

But the lid on the bucket for Colby was too much in a 70-46 Lady Saints win.

Rachel Barnes led the Lady Saints with 22 points.

Sumr Robinett and Morgan Skomal each had 10. Robinett accomplished a double double by grabbing 12 rebounds to go with her 10 points.

Megan Lassley scored eight.

Nadia Rosario continued to be a force on the defensive end, getting three blocked shot.

Seward jumped out to a 10-point lead in the first half and continued to dominate in the second in the Jayhawk West victory that advanced the No. 15 Lady Saints to 5-0 in the conference.

Colby fell to 0-5.

The Lady Saints will travel to Dodge City Sunday to face the 1-4 Lady Conquistadors.

Seward will return home to face Garden City Jan. 27.
