There are some names that are very familiar to those in baseball circles around the nation.

Yankees, Mud Hens and even the Lansing Lugnuts have a reputation for being a part of the history of the game.

Another name that is widely known comes from Liberal — the Bee Jays.

With a long list of Major Leaguers getting their start in the powder blue and red, including two Cy Young winners and three Major League managers, there are many in the profession that are familiar with the community's tie to the major league sport.

Hargrove effect still being felt for Liberal Bee Jays

For the next 25 seasons of the jayhawk League, the Bee Jays did not have a season in which they were not in the top 10 of the Jayhawk League titles.

In 2001, Liberal suffered its first season in which it did not finish in the top 10 of the Jayhawk League titles.

The Hargrove effect was still being felt in 2013 as the Bee Jays finished 17th in the Jayhawk League titles.
