BE Liberal begins grassroots effort to mobilize community

By Dan Smith
A local group of citizens from a variety of backgrounds has begun a grassroots effort to mobilize the community around a common goal: to establish a new library building in Liberal, Mo.

The group, known as the Liberal Citizens' Alliance, was formed last week. Its members include a mix of professionals, business owners, and community leaders. The group's primary focus is to raise awareness of the need for a new library and to encourage citizens to get involved in the process.

The current plan is to hold a series of public meetings and forums to gather input from the community. The group also plans to launch a petition drive and to contact local officials to express its concerns. The group's ultimate goal is to secure funding for a new library building that will serve the needs of the community for many years to come.

Dual-language instruction may come to an end

By Dan Smith
The Board of Education in Liberal, Mo., is considering whether to discontinue dual-language instruction in the district's elementary schools. The board is currently reviewing the program's effectiveness and cost.

The dual-language program, which was implemented several years ago, allows students to learn English and Spanish simultaneously. While the program has been successful in promoting language acquisition, it has also faced challenges in terms of funding and staffing.

The board is expected to make a decision on the program in the coming weeks. If the program is discontinued, it would likely result in the loss of dual-language instruction for many students in the district.

This view of Plains, Mo., may have a parking garage soon that could provide an alternative to the current parking lot. The parking garage is being built by the city and is expected to be completed in the next few months.
