College to offer music disaster relief
College of Arts and Sciences (CAS) is offering a special program to help students in need. The program is called "Music for Disaster Relief" and is a part of the CAS's commitment to social responsibility. The program will provide students with the opportunity to perform at disaster relief events and to receive financial assistance. The program is open to all students and is a great way to give back to the community.

Local leaders look for answers to day care problem
Local leaders are looking for answers to the day care problem. The problem is that there are not enough day care centers in the area. This is a problem for many families who need day care for their children. Local leaders are working to find solutions to this problem. They are looking for ways to increase the number of day care centers and to make them more affordable. This is a complex problem and it will take time to find a solution. However, local leaders are committed to finding a way to solve this problem.
