Preserving part of Seward County's forgotten history

Whisenand county look to save Springfield Cemetery

By [Name] Staff Writer

The town of Springfield, Mo., has a rich history, and one of the most important parts of that history is the Springfield Cemetery. The cemetery is a large, open area that has been used for burials since the early 1800s. It is a place of great significance to the community, and it is important to preserve it for future generations. The town of Springfield is currently working to preserve the cemetery, and it is hoped that this effort will be successful.

STUDENTS CELEBRATE END OF SCHOOL

A group of Springfield students celebrated the end of the school year with a fun-filled event. The students participated in various activities, including games, contests, and performances. The event was a great success, and the students enjoyed every minute of it.
