Alley or road?

Alley has a street name, playgrounds later, and a long way to go

The road isn't built on the alley, but the alley is built on the road. It's a simple truth that has been forgotten in the name of progress. In the early days of settlement, the alley was the main thoroughfare. It was the road that led to the fields, the woods, and the water. But as the years passed, the road became the main thoroughfare, and the alley became a mere side street. Today, the alley is often a forgotten part of our history, a narrow path that leads to a forgotten past.

Preserving part of Seward County's forgotten history

Whisenand county look to save Springfield Cemetery

Whisenand County is looking to preserve a piece of its history by saving the Springfield Cemetery. The cemetery, located in the town of Springfield, was founded in 1858 and is one of the oldest in the county. It contains the remains of many early settlers and is a valuable historical resource. The county is currently working to secure funding to restore and maintain the cemetery, ensuring that this important part of the county's heritage is preserved for future generations.

STUDENTS CELEBRATE END OF SCHOOL

A group of students celebrated the end of the school year with a special ceremony. The students, dressed in their school uniforms, gathered in the school courtyard. They performed a series of songs and dances, celebrating their accomplishments over the past year. The ceremony was a joyous occasion for everyone involved, marking the end of a busy and successful school year.
