County looks to repair portions of courthouse roof
By David H. Davis
Lincoln County is looking to repair portions of its courthouse roof, which is in need of significant work. The county board of commissioners is expected to vote on a resolution to hire a contractor to perform the repairs. The estimated cost of the project is $1.5 million. The courthouse is one of the oldest buildings in Lincoln County and is a significant landmark. The roof has been in poor condition for several years and has caused significant damage to the interior of the building. The county board is expected to meet on Monday, May 20, to discuss the project.

Go Mustangs, Class of 2013
The Lincoln County High School graduation ceremony is set for Monday, May 20, at 7 p.m. in the Lincoln County Courthouse. The ceremony will feature a variety of performances, including a band, choir, and dance. The graduates will receive their diplomas from the county board of commissioners. The ceremony is free and open to the public. For more information, visit www.lcshs.com.

School board tackles new business
The Lincoln County Board of Education is meeting on Monday, May 20, to discuss a new business proposal. The proposal is for a new school building in the area of Lincoln County. The board is expected to vote on whether to approve the proposal. The new building is expected to be completed in 2015. The current building is in poor condition and is in need of significant repairs. The new building would provide a better learning environment for the students of Lincoln County. The board is expected to meet at 7 p.m. in the Lincoln County Courthouse.

TORNADOES SLAM PLAINS, MIDWEST; 1 DEAD IN OKLA.
A large, violent tornado struck a small town in Oklahoma on Monday, killing one person and injuring several others. The tornado was one of the largest and most violent to hit the area in decades. It caused significant damage to homes and businesses. The town is still in a state of shock and recovery. The National Weather Service is investigating the cause of the tornado. The town is expected to be hit by more tornadoes in the coming weeks.
