Kids dive into reading

Memorial Library kicks off summer reading programs

Local Memorial Library kicked off its summer reading program for children on Friday, June 7. The program is designed to encourage children to read during the summer months. The library offers a variety of activities, including story time, book clubs, and reading challenges. Children can earn points for books they read and participate in contests. The program runs through August 31. For more information, visit www.memoriallibrary.org.

Brian Weber resigning later this month

Deputy Mayor Brian Weber announced his resignation from the city council on Friday, June 7. Weber has served on the council since 2009. He will be leaving his position at the end of the month. The city council will hold a meeting to discuss the vacancy on July 15. For more information, visit www.cityofchicago.gov.

WANTED: More day care facilities

The City of Chicago is seeking proposals for new day care facilities. The city is currently facing a shortage of day care spots for young children. The city council has approved a plan to build new facilities and expand existing ones. The plan includes building 10 new facilities and expanding 10 existing ones. The city is currently accepting proposals for these facilities. For more information, visit www.cityofchicago.gov.
