Common questions about day care facilities

BY KERRY STEIN
Parents often have questions about day care facilities, especially when they are considering enrolling their children. Here are some common questions and answers.

Q: How do I choose a day care facility?
A: Start by asking for recommendations from friends and family. Visit the facility and talk to the director. Check the facility's license and accreditation. Ask to see the facility's policies and procedures. Consider the facility's location, hours, and cost.

Q: What should I look for in a day care facility?
A: Look for a clean, safe, and well-maintained facility. The staff should be trained and qualified. The facility should have a good reputation and a history of providing quality care.

Q: How can I ensure my child's safety?
A: Make sure the facility has proper safety protocols in place. This includes fire drills, emergency procedures, and secure entry and exit points.

Q: What if I have concerns about the facility?
A: Don't be afraid to voice your concerns. The director should be able to address your concerns and provide you with the information you need to make a decision.
