City bids farewell to public works director Joe Sealey

By MICHAEL COLEMAN
The city of Liberal, Kansas, is bidding farewell to its public works director, Joe Sealey, who has served the community for over 20 years. Sealey, 62, has been a dedicated professional throughout his career. He joined the city in 1993 and has overseen the construction and maintenance of many city facilities. His leadership and expertise have been invaluable to the city's infrastructure. Sealey will be missed by his colleagues and the community as a whole. The city will continue to value his contributions and wishes him the best in his future endeavors.

New generation of trap shooters step up and Take aim

4-H Shooting Sports Club members, including Mike Worsh, are participating in a trap shooting competition. The club provides a safe and supervised environment for youth to learn marksmanship and sportsmanship. The event was held at the 4-H Shooting Sports Club facility, where participants were encouraged to focus on safety and accuracy. The club's goal is to instill a love for the sport and teach valuable life skills to its members.
