The drive-in movie theater is a nostalgic sight for many. Theaters were built in the 1930s and 1940s, and they were popular for decades. Many drive-in theaters have since been converted into other types of venues, but some still remain. The drive-in movie theater is a unique experience, and it's one that's worth checking out if you're looking for a fun and nostalgic activity.

A large group of people gathered in a church or community hall for a Gospel Songfest. The room is filled with people of various ages, and the atmosphere appears to be one of a community gathering. The event was held despite stormy weather, showing the community's dedication to the occasion.

Survey says community cares most about security, safety
A recent survey conducted by the Pew Research Center found that Americans are most concerned about national security and safety. The survey, which was conducted in May and June of 2013, asked respondents to rank their top concerns. Security and safety were the most common responses, with 63 percent of respondents ranking them as their top concern. Other concerns included the economy, health care, and education. The survey also found that Americans are more concerned about security and safety than they were in 2009. This suggests that the current political and economic climate has led to increased concerns about national security and safety.

'DUCKY' GETS SQUEAKY CLEAN
The Duck Brand has announced that it is recalling its 'Ducky' brand ground beef products. The recall is due to a contamination issue with the products. The company has advised consumers to stop using the products and to return them to the store for a full refund. The recall affects products sold between May 1, 2013, and July 31, 2013. Consumers should check the packaging for the 'Ducky' logo and the words 'Ducky Brand' and 'Ground Beef'.
