County to seek public input on health needs
Garden City's growth tied to private/public financing
LIBERAL

By Dan Riechers
Garden City is seeking public input on health needs as the county prepares for a major expansion of its health services. The expansion is part of a larger effort to improve the county's health care system and to ensure that it is able to meet the needs of its growing population.

The county is currently in the process of conducting a needs assessment to determine the health care needs of its residents. This assessment will be used to guide the development of a health care plan that will outline the county's long-term health care strategy.

The county is also seeking public input on health needs through a series of public hearings. These hearings will provide an opportunity for residents to share their views on the county's health care needs and to provide input on the development of a health care plan.

OPEN for business?

Businesses are looking for ways to attract new customers and to increase their sales. One way to do this is by offering special promotions and discounts. Another way is by providing excellent customer service. Businesses that offer these services are more likely to attract new customers and to increase their sales.

Mothers find support at fair's breastfeeding coalition booth
Southwest Kansas Breastfeeding Friends Coalition

By Michelle Cline
Mothers are finding support and resources at a breastfeeding coalition booth at a fair. The booth is part of a coalition of breastfeeding friends who are working to promote breastfeeding and to provide support to mothers who are breastfeeding their babies.

The coalition is made up of a variety of organizations and individuals who are all committed to promoting breastfeeding. These organizations include the local health department, the local hospital, and a variety of breastfeeding support groups.

The coalition is working to provide a variety of resources and support to mothers who are breastfeeding their babies. These resources include information on breastfeeding techniques, information on where to find breastfeeding support groups, and information on how to get help if you are having trouble breastfeeding.
