 Local residents reflect on King's Dream 50 years ago

By MICHAEL COOPER
 10/11/13

Fifty years ago, he walked toward the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D.C. The man dressed in a white suit, black shoes and a black hat was Martin Luther King Jr. He was speaking to a crowd of about 250,000 people, including the Rev. James Bevel, the Rev. Jesse Jackson and the Rev. Fred Shuttlesworth. King was speaking about the dream of a better world, a world where people are judged not by the color of their skin but by the content of their character.

San Antonio proposal could bar Christians from city council

By MICHAEL COOPER
 10/11/13

A proposal to amend the city charter in San Antonio could bar Christians from serving on the city council. The proposal, which was introduced by Councilman Ron Newberry, would require council members to be members of a "recognized religious organization." The proposal has sparked controversy because it would effectively bar Christians from serving on the council.
