ACA increases district's healthcare costs by $1.68 million

By Heidi D'Amico
The District of Columbia's new health care law, known as the Affordable Care Act (ACA), has increased the district's healthcare costs by $1.68 million, according to a report released by the District's Office of Management and Enterprise Services (OMES).

ACA increases district's healthcare costs by $1.68 million
The report, released in August, shows that the ACA has increased the district's healthcare costs by $1.68 million, or 1.6 percent, over the 2012 fiscal year. The increase is primarily due to the ACA's requirement that employers provide health insurance to their employees.
