

Thursday, October 10, 2013

Will gov't shutdown affect local residents?

By [Name] | [Date]

Local residents are not likely to be affected by a government shutdown, according to a local official. The federal government's operations are largely funded by federal income taxes, which are collected by the Internal Revenue Service, not by local governments.

No injuries in Okla. pipeline blast

By [Name] | [Date]

A gas pipeline explosion in Oklahoma on Wednesday did not result in any injuries, according to local officials. The blast occurred in a residential area, but the gas company says the explosion was contained and did not affect nearby homes.

HALF CENT TO BE ON BALLOT

By [Name] | [Date]

A city commission will allow public utility rates to increase by half a cent per gallon, according to a local official. The increase is intended to cover the cost of infrastructure improvements and maintenance.

College scholarship auction raises $46,000

By [Name] | [Date]

A college scholarship auction raised $46,000 for students in need, according to a local official. The auction featured a variety of items, including electronics and furniture, and was held at a local community center.

Obama Administration denies Mass to Catholics

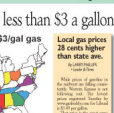

By [Name] | [Date]

The Obama Administration has denied a request from the Catholic Church in Massachusetts to allow religious organizations to refuse services to gay couples. The denial is based on the federal anti-discrimination laws.

18 states now selling gas for less than $3 a gallon

By [Name] | [Date]

Eighteen states are now selling gas for less than $3 a gallon, according to a local official. This is a significant decrease from previous years and is due to a combination of factors, including a drop in oil prices and increased competition.

Police arrest 8 House members at immigration rally

By [Name] | [Date]

Eight House members were arrested at an immigration rally in Arizona, according to a local official. The members were accused of disrupting the event and violating local laws. The arrests were made by local police officers.

Local gas prices 28 cents higher than state ave.

By [Name] | [Date]

Local gas prices are 28 cents higher than the state average, according to a local official. This is due to a combination of factors, including a drop in oil prices and increased competition.

Happy Birthda, Ron Kiley!

By [Name] | [Date]

A local official wishes a happy birthday to Ron Kiley, a local resident. Ron is a well-known figure in the community and has been active in various local organizations.