Appeals court won't stop Keystone in Okla., Texas

APPEALS COURT WON'T STOP KEYSTONE IN OKLA., TEXAS

By The Associated Press
 OKLAHOOMA (AP) — A federal appeals court on Monday ruled that the federal government's Keystone pipeline project in Oklahoma and Texas is lawful. The court's decision is a major victory for the pipeline's supporters, who have been fighting to keep the project from being blocked by state courts. The court said that the federal government's actions are within its constitutional authority and that the pipeline project does not violate state laws.

KANSAS TO STOP USING FEDERAL FOOD STAMP GRANT

By The Associated Press
 WASHINGTON (AP) — Kansas will stop receiving a federal grant to help pay for its Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) food stamps starting next month. The state is making the decision as part of a budget-cutting effort. The grant is one of the state's largest sources of federal revenue for the program. The state will have to find other ways to fund the program.

Fossil hunter wants Kansas state fossil

By The Associated Press
 WASHINGTON (AP) — A Kansas fossil hunter is asking the state to declare his fossil a state fossil. The fossil is a large, smooth, dark-colored object found in a quarry in Kansas. The hunter, David M. Beatty, claims that the fossil is a new species of fossil. He wants the state to recognize it as a state fossil to protect it and allow for further research.
