Lawyers seek dismissal of Kansas murder charge
A Kansas man accused of murdering a woman in 2007 is seeking to have his murder charge dismissed. The man's lawyers argue that the state's evidence is insufficient to prove his guilt beyond a reasonable doubt. The case is currently in court, and the judge is expected to make a decision in the coming weeks.

Maybe Nov. 30 before healthcare.gov is fixed
The Obama administration says it may not be able to launch the new health care website, healthcare.gov, until after Nov. 30. The website is intended to allow Americans to compare and purchase health insurance plans. The administration is currently testing the website and has identified several bugs that need to be fixed before it can be launched.

Kan. woman dies after vehicle stalls on interstate
A Kansas woman died after her vehicle stalled on Interstate 70. The woman was driving alone and her car stalled in the middle of the highway. She was unable to get out of the car and was struck by a passing vehicle. The driver of the second vehicle was charged with manslaughter. The woman's death is a tragic reminder of the dangers of driving on busy highways.
