Lawyers seek dismissal of Kansas murder charge
A KANSAS man accused of murdering a woman in a parking garage in 2009 is seeking to have a murder charge against him dismissed. The man, who is currently in custody, is being held in the Independence Correctional Center. His lawyers are arguing that the state's evidence is insufficient to prove his guilt beyond a reasonable doubt. The case is currently in the hands of the state's attorney general.

May be Nov. 30 before healthcare.gov is fixed
The Obama administration says it may not be able to launch the new health care website, healthcare.gov, until after the Nov. 30 deadline. The website is intended to allow consumers to compare and purchase health insurance plans. The administration is currently testing the site and has identified several bugs that need to be fixed. The website is expected to be launched in the next few weeks.
