

PLUS DUCKS
DUCKS UNLIMITED hosts annual membership banquet
Page 7A

Ah, sweets
French Market treats
Page 3A

International Fair
What's an without music?
Page 3A

Seward County Extension Council Election is Tuesday
The Board of Seward County Extension Council will hold its 2013 election on Tuesday, Nov. 5, at 7 p.m. at the Seward County Extension Council building, 1000 W. 10th St., Seward. The board will elect members to serve for two-year terms starting in January 2014. The board will also elect a president and vice president. For more information, contact the Seward County Extension Council at 781-2331 or visit the website at www.sewardcountyextension.org.
By Kim Voth/Staff Writer

MONDAY NOVEMBER 4, 2013
LEADER & TIMES
Year Daily news & news for 127 years
323 North Kansas
PO-424-4444

County will hear restricting plans of election officials
Believing to meet population growth, shifts
By JESSICA HICK
Seward, Kan. — Seward County officials are preparing to meet with election officials to discuss plans for restricting the number of voters at polling locations. The plan is to restrict the number of voters at polling locations to 100 people, which would allow for more polling locations to be opened in the county. The plan is to restrict the number of voters at polling locations to 100 people, which would allow for more polling locations to be opened in the county. The plan is to restrict the number of voters at polling locations to 100 people, which would allow for more polling locations to be opened in the county.
By JESSICA HICK
Seward, Kan. — Seward County officials are preparing to meet with election officials to discuss plans for restricting the number of voters at polling locations. The plan is to restrict the number of voters at polling locations to 100 people, which would allow for more polling locations to be opened in the county. The plan is to restrict the number of voters at polling locations to 100 people, which would allow for more polling locations to be opened in the county.

Ohio zoo using beagle to detect bear pregnancies
By JESSICA HICK
Seward, Kan. — Seward County officials are preparing to meet with election officials to discuss plans for restricting the number of voters at polling locations. The plan is to restrict the number of voters at polling locations to 100 people, which would allow for more polling locations to be opened in the county. The plan is to restrict the number of voters at polling locations to 100 people, which would allow for more polling locations to be opened in the county.
By JESSICA HICK
Seward, Kan. — Seward County officials are preparing to meet with election officials to discuss plans for restricting the number of voters at polling locations. The plan is to restrict the number of voters at polling locations to 100 people, which would allow for more polling locations to be opened in the county. The plan is to restrict the number of voters at polling locations to 100 people, which would allow for more polling locations to be opened in the county.

CHRISTMAS PARADE
DOWN TOWN LIBERAL
By JESSICA HICK
Seward, Kan. — Seward County officials are preparing to meet with election officials to discuss plans for restricting the number of voters at polling locations. The plan is to restrict the number of voters at polling locations to 100 people, which would allow for more polling locations to be opened in the county. The plan is to restrict the number of voters at polling locations to 100 people, which would allow for more polling locations to be opened in the county.

Ancient mammal named after KU prof
By JESSICA HICK
Seward, Kan. — Seward County officials are preparing to meet with election officials to discuss plans for restricting the number of voters at polling locations. The plan is to restrict the number of voters at polling locations to 100 people, which would allow for more polling locations to be opened in the county. The plan is to restrict the number of voters at polling locations to 100 people, which would allow for more polling locations to be opened in the county.

Happy Birthday Could Memorial