

It's lonely at the top, but you eat better.
Come watch Alamy Sports Center with Wings, 8 Sports at Alamy Sports Center on Monday, Nov. 18, 7:30 p.m. Wings & Sports might be the best way to enjoy the week-end in Wichita, Kansas.

Board, VISION team kick off week of 16 public meetings today
A board of directors, including the city manager, city council members, and the board of directors, will meet today at 7 p.m. at the city council chambers to discuss the city's vision for the future. The meeting is the first of a series of 16 public meetings that will be held over the next two weeks. The meetings are part of a process to develop a long-term vision for the city and to identify the key issues that will shape the city's future. The meetings will be held at various locations throughout the city, including the city council chambers, the city manager's office, and the city manager's residence. The meetings are open to the public and will be held in both English and Spanish. For more information, visit www.wichita.gov.

Restrooms
Public water or private well?
The City of Topeka is currently reviewing the city's water supply options. The city is currently using a combination of public water and private wells. The city is currently reviewing the city's water supply options to determine if it is in the best interest of the city to use public water or private wells. The city is currently reviewing the city's water supply options to determine if it is in the best interest of the city to use public water or private wells. The city is currently reviewing the city's water supply options to determine if it is in the best interest of the city to use public water or private wells.

BOOK SIGNING
Gwen Stevens Hanson book signing event set for Wednesday in Okla. Panhandle
Gwen Stevens Hanson, author of the book "The Farmer's Daughter," will be signing her book on Wednesday, November 20, at 7 p.m. at the book store in the Okla. Panhandle. The book is available at www.oklahomapanhandle.com. For more information, visit www.oklahomapanhandle.com.

SCAVENGER HUNT
MONDAY NOVEMBER 18, 2013
LEADER & TIMES
Year daily news & views for 127 years

finel & tread
CHRISTMAS PARADE
WITH A BRAND NEW FORD FOCUS
FOR YOUR HOLIDAY

Woman killed in Topeka church parking lot
A woman was killed in a shooting in a church parking lot in Topeka, Kansas, on Monday. The victim was identified as Christina Marie. The shooting occurred at approximately 10 p.m. at the church parking lot. The police are currently investigating the shooting and have not yet identified a suspect. For more information, visit www.wichita.com.

Wife dead, husband wounded in Kansas shooting
A woman was killed and her husband was wounded in a shooting in Kansas. The shooting occurred at approximately 10 p.m. at the church parking lot. The police are currently investigating the shooting and have not yet identified a suspect. For more information, visit www.wichita.com.

Half-grown T. rex fossil could answer questions
A half-grown T. rex fossil could answer questions about the dinosaur's growth and development. The fossil was discovered in a quarry in Montana. The fossil is a partial skeleton of a young T. rex, and it is the first complete skeleton of a young T. rex ever discovered. The fossil is currently on display at the American Museum of Natural History in New York City. For more information, visit www.amnh.org.

1 dead, arrest made in store shooting
A woman was killed and a man was arrested in a shooting in a store. The shooting occurred at approximately 10 p.m. at the store. The police are currently investigating the shooting and have not yet identified a suspect. For more information, visit www.wichita.com.

Kan. governor seeks school finance dialogue
The governor of Kansas is seeking dialogue with the state legislature about school finance. The governor is currently reviewing the state's school finance system and is seeking input from the legislature. The governor is currently reviewing the state's school finance system and is seeking input from the legislature. The governor is currently reviewing the state's school finance system and is seeking input from the legislature.