Board, VISION team kick off week of 16 public meetings today
A board of directors, including the city's mayor, will meet today to discuss the city's vision for the future. The meeting is the first of a series of 16 public meetings that will be held over the next two weeks. The meetings are part of a process to develop a long-term vision for the city and to identify the key issues that will shape the city's future. The meetings will be held at various locations throughout the city, including the city hall, libraries, and community centers. The meetings are open to the public and will provide an opportunity for citizens to share their thoughts and ideas with the board. The board will then use the information gathered from the meetings to develop a vision statement and a strategic plan for the city. The vision statement will outline the city's long-term goals and objectives, and the strategic plan will describe the actions that will be taken to achieve those goals. The meetings are scheduled for the following dates and times: Monday, Nov. 18, 7:30-9:30 p.m.; Tuesday, Nov. 19, 7:30-9:30 p.m.; Wednesday, Nov. 20, 7:30-9:30 p.m.; Thursday, Nov. 21, 7:30-9:30 p.m.; Friday, Nov. 22, 7:30-9:30 p.m.; Saturday, Nov. 23, 7:30-9:30 p.m.; Sunday, Nov. 24, 7:30-9:30 p.m.; Monday, Nov. 25, 7:30-9:30 p.m.; Tuesday, Nov. 26, 7:30-9:30 p.m.; Wednesday, Nov. 27, 7:30-9:30 p.m.; Thursday, Nov. 28, 7:30-9:30 p.m.; Friday, Nov. 29, 7:30-9:30 p.m.; Saturday, Nov. 30, 7:30-9:30 p.m.; Sunday, Dec. 1, 7:30-9:30 p.m.

Public water or private well?
The city is considering the possibility of providing public water to residents who currently use private wells. This would be a significant investment, but it could also provide a more reliable and consistent water supply for the community. The city is currently conducting a feasibility study to determine the costs and benefits of this option. The study will take into account factors such as the number of residents who would be affected, the cost of infrastructure, and the potential for water conservation. The city will make a decision on whether to proceed with this project in the coming months. If approved, the project would be a major step towards ensuring that all residents have access to clean, safe drinking water.
