Emphasize safety when decorating for the holidays

Decorating for the holidays is a fun activity, but it's important to take safety precautions. The National Fire Protection Association (NFPA) reports that the number of fires caused by candles has increased in recent years. To prevent fires, NFPA recommends using candles in glass containers, never leaving them unattended, and keeping them away from flammable decorations. It also advises using LED lights instead of incandescent lights and avoiding overloading electrical outlets.

Potted Christmas trees produce holiday cheer all year long

Christmas trees are a symbol of the season, but potted trees offer a longer-lasting alternative. They can be kept indoors or outdoors, depending on the variety. Potted trees are often decorated with lights and ornaments, and they can be a centerpiece for the holiday season. Many nurseries and garden centers offer a variety of potted trees, including traditional evergreens and more exotic species like cedar and spruce.
