Winner gets a new car

County looks to spend $100K to stop concealed carry in 2 buildings

Commission may request 4-year exemption from concealed carry law before spending on security

Seaward County

Seaward County Commission is set to vote on a resolution to request a four-year exemption from the state's concealed carry law. The resolution would allow the county to spend up to $100,000 on security measures for two buildings, the county jail and the county administration center, without having to pay for the exemption. The exemption would also allow the county to spend up to $100,000 on security measures for the two buildings without having to pay for the exemption. The resolution would also allow the county to spend up to $100,000 on security measures for the two buildings without having to pay for the exemption.
