Board contemplates worst-case scenario

If bond fails, how will USD 400 cope?

By Susan Kiser

It's a question that will be asked in the coming days as the board of directors of the University of Utah System contemplates the possibility of a bond issue that would allow the system to raise $400 million to help pay for the construction of a new building for the School of Business Administration. The board is expected to meet on Dec. 23 to discuss the issue.
