Defibrillator vest a blessing for Spearman man
A 67-year-old man who has suffered a heart attack is now able to go back to work thanks to a defibrillator vest. The man, who is a member of the Spearman community, was diagnosed with a heart condition and was advised to wear a vest. The vest is a life-saving device that can deliver an electric shock to the heart if it detects an irregular rhythm. The man's family is grateful for the vest, which has allowed him to continue his work and enjoy his life.

Union seeks severance for teacher convicted of raping student
A teacher who has been convicted of raping a student is seeking severance from his union. The teacher, who has been a member of the union for many years, was found guilty of the crime and is facing a long prison sentence. The union is currently in a dispute with the school board over the teacher's employment status and is seeking to provide him with severance pay. The school board is refusing to do so, claiming that the teacher's actions were a breach of the union's code of conduct.
