Defibrillator vest a blessing for Spearman man
A defibrillator vest has been a blessing for a Spearman man who suffered a heart attack last year. The vest, which he wears under his shirt, has helped him survive several cardiac arrests. The man, who is now recovering well, says the vest has been a lifesaver. The vest is a small, portable device that can deliver an electric shock to the heart if it detects an irregular rhythm. It is designed to be used by laypeople in an emergency. The man's story is a testament to the power of modern medical technology and the importance of having a defibrillator vest available in case of an emergency.

Union seeks severance for teacher convicted of raping student
A teacher who was convicted of raping a student is seeking severance pay from his union. The union is fighting to keep the teacher on the payroll, despite the conviction. The teacher's union is arguing that the teacher was not at fault for the crime and that he should be treated like any other teacher who has been convicted of a crime. The union is also arguing that the teacher's conviction does not automatically disqualify him from teaching. The union's position is being challenged by the school district and the public. The case is currently being litigated in court.
