Crowds relive Washington's 1776 river crossing

A holiday along the Neversink River as a group of people in a small boat participate in a historical reenactment of the 1776 river crossing. The boat is filled with people dressed in 18th-century attire, and they are navigating through the narrow channel of the river. The background shows a dense forest of trees, some with snow on their branches, suggesting a winter setting. The water is calm, and the overall atmosphere is one of historical significance.

Las Vegas cab driver finds $300K in back seat

City approves new plan allowing city staff to also have concealed-carry rights

Monday night on a crowded highway, a Las Vegas cab driver found a large sum of money hidden in the back seat of his vehicle. The driver, who was on his way home, noticed the money while driving through a residential area. The money was hidden in a bag behind the front passenger seat. The driver turned the money over to the police, who are currently investigating the source of the funds.

The city council has approved a new plan that would allow city staff to also have concealed-carry rights. This is a significant change in policy, as it would allow city employees to carry firearms on the job. The plan was passed by a 5-2 vote. The city council members who supported the plan argued that it would help protect city property and employees. The two dissenting members argued that it would be a violation of the city's non-discrimination policy.
