Biking to make a difference
Many people like to go outside to enjoy nature and get some exercise. For some, it's a hobby. For others, it's a way of life. In the heart of the state, a group of people is using their bikes to make a difference. The group, called the "Bike Buddies," is made up of people of all ages and abilities. They meet every week to ride together and enjoy the outdoors. The group is also involved in community service projects, such as cleaning up parks and trails. The "Bike Buddies" are a great way to get out there and enjoy the outdoors while making a difference.
