Okla. gay marriage ban struck down; ruling on hold

A federal judge has struck down the Oklahoma gay marriage ban, but the ruling is on hold. The judge, Judge David N. Hale, ruled that the ban violated the Equal Protection Clause of the U.S. Constitution. The ruling is a significant victory for the LGBTQ+ community. However, the ruling is currently on hold as the case is being appealed. The outcome of the appeal will determine the future of the ban.

Plains United Methodist Men, including Pastor Bob Boring, and other members of the church are seen at the annual Ground Hog Supper event. The event is a community gathering that supports the church's programs and provides a meal for the community.
