Judge believes local tax collector signed fraudulent tax returns
A judge has ruled that a local tax collector signed fraudulent tax returns for several years, according to a report from the state's attorney general. The judge found that the collector, who worked for the state's Department of Taxation and Revenue, had signed returns for thousands of taxpayers without their knowledge. The returns were found to contain errors, including incorrect income reporting and tax calculations. The judge's decision is a significant blow to the collector and a warning to other tax professionals.
