Obama set to announce 'practical' agenda focusing on immigration, income equality

President Barack Obama is expected to announce a "practical" agenda focusing on immigration, income equality and other issues, according to a senior administration official. The official said the president will likely announce the agenda in the next few weeks, but declined to provide more details. The agenda is expected to include proposals for immigration reform, such as a pathway to citizenship for undocumented immigrants, and measures to address income inequality, such as raising the minimum wage and strengthening labor protections. The official also said the president will likely announce the agenda in a speech to Congress, but declined to provide more details.
