Obama set to announce 'practical' agenda focusing on immigration, income equality

President Barack Obama is expected to announce a "practical" agenda focusing on immigration, income equality and other issues, according to a senior administration official. The official said the president will likely announce the agenda in the next few weeks, but declined to provide more details. The agenda is expected to include measures to address the needs of the middle class, improve the economy, and reform the immigration system. Obama's administration has been criticized for its handling of the economy and immigration, and the new agenda is seen as a response to these criticisms.

$22,000 worth of eggs stolen in Puerto Rico
 A large quantity of eggs worth $22,000 was stolen from a farm in Puerto Rico, police said. The eggs were found to be contaminated with salmonella, and the farm is currently under investigation. The theft occurred in a rural area, and the police are looking for anyone who may have been involved in the crime.

Odd call: Blowing nose brings big buck running
 A man in a rural area heard a strange call that sounded like a pig. He followed the sound and discovered a large buck running through the woods. The man was able to track down the buck and successfully hunt it. The buck was a large specimen, and the man was very pleased with his catch.
