Obama set to announce 'practical' agenda focusing on immigration, income equality

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Barack Obama is expected to announce a new set of policies aimed at addressing immigration, income inequality and other issues, according to a senior administration official. The official said the president will likely announce the policies in the next few weeks. The policies are expected to include changes to the way the federal government handles immigration, as well as new measures to address income inequality. The official said the president will also announce a new set of policies aimed at addressing other issues, such as education and healthcare. The policies are expected to be announced in a speech to the nation.
