NEW YORK (AP) — Woody Allen's allies on Monday cast doubt on the sexual abuse claims of a woman who says she was sexually abused by the filmmaker when she was 17 years old.

The woman, who is now 34, says she was sexually abused by Allen in 1972, when she was 17 years old. She says she was pregnant with a child who was later aborted. She says she was sexually abused by Allen for several years.

Allen's allies, including his lawyer, said that the woman's claims are unfounded. They said that the woman was never pregnant and that she was not sexually abused by Allen.

The woman's lawyer, however, says that the woman's claims are true. He says that the woman was sexually abused by Allen for several years and that she was pregnant with a child who was later aborted.
