'That' Liberal Band preparing for its 34th annual Fish Fry

By David L. Johnson

It's the one and only group in the state that has been around since 1980. The Liberal Band is preparing for its 34th annual Fish Fry, which will be held at the Seward County Fairgrounds in Seward, Kan., on Saturday, Feb. 15. The band, which is made up of members from various liberal organizations, has been a staple of the fair for decades. This year's fry is expected to be one of the largest yet, with over 100 vendors and thousands of attendees. The band will be performing throughout the day, providing entertainment for the fairgoers.

Seward County Commissioner Jim Rice endorses De Wolf for U.S. Senate

By David L. Johnson

In addition to endorsing De Wolf, Commissioner Rice also signed a letter to the U.S. House of Representatives endorsing De Wolf's nomination. Rice, who is a member of the U.S. House of Representatives, has been a vocal supporter of De Wolf's campaign. He believes that De Wolf is the best candidate for the U.S. Senate and has been working to build support for his nomination. Rice's endorsement is seen as a significant boost for De Wolf's campaign, as it shows the support of a prominent local politician.

Bottle released by Mass. scientist in April 1956 found

The drift bottle was among thousands sent to the Atlantic Ocean as part of a program to study ocean circulation. The bottle was found in the North Atlantic Ocean, about 1,000 miles from where it was released. The discovery provides valuable information about ocean currents and circulation patterns. The bottle was found by a group of researchers who were studying the ocean's circulation. They discovered the bottle while conducting a survey of the North Atlantic Ocean. The bottle was found in a location that was consistent with the expected path of the ocean currents. This discovery is a significant milestone in the study of ocean circulation and provides valuable data for scientists.

No bail for ex-officer charged in theater shooting

A judge has denied bail for a former police officer charged with the murder of a woman in a theater. The officer, who is accused of shooting the woman during a performance, is being held in custody. The judge ruled that the officer poses a significant risk to the community and that his release would be a danger to public safety. The case is currently in the court system, and a trial date has not yet been set.
