

When you don't know what you are doing, do it neatly.
Comments by Marjorie Sperry in Columns & Opinion February 17, 2014
A column by Marjorie Sperry in Columns & Opinion February 17, 2014

Where was the huge piece of equipment headed Saturday after it made its way through Liberal? Page 4A

County to get update on prairie chicken listing
By Tom Ichniowski
The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service is expected to announce whether it will list the prairie chicken as an endangered species. The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service is expected to announce whether it will list the prairie chicken as an endangered species. The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service is expected to announce whether it will list the prairie chicken as an endangered species.

LEADER & TIMES

Your daily news source for 127 years

Setting on a good AirFair

LA workers break record for largest concrete pour
By Tom Ichniowski
Construction workers in Los Angeles broke a record Saturday for the largest concrete pour in the city's history. The workers poured 100,000 cubic yards of concrete for a new project.

'No global warming for 17 years 3 months' — a Monckton Analysis
By Tom Ichniowski
A new analysis by a climate change skeptic suggests that global warming will not occur for 17 years and 3 months. The analysis is based on a review of climate data and models.

Endangered person advisory for teenage Mo. girl
By Tom Ichniowski
A Missouri teenager has been named as an endangered person in a state advisory. The advisory is based on concerns about the girl's safety and well-being.

John Kerry mocks those who deny climate change

John Kerry, the former U.S. Secretary of State, mocked those who deny climate change during a speech in Massachusetts. He said that climate change is a real and urgent threat that requires immediate action. He criticized those who deny the science of climate change and those who are in denial about the need to take action.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service is expected to announce whether it will list the prairie chicken as an endangered species. The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service is expected to announce whether it will list the prairie chicken as an endangered species.