School, city to approve sales tax agreement today
By Jeff Knapp

The City of Coronado and the Board of Education will meet today to discuss a proposed sales tax agreement with the school district. The agreement would allow the city to collect a 1.5 percent sales tax on all goods and services sold in the city. The tax would be used to fund the school district's operations. The agreement is expected to be approved by the city council and the school board in the coming weeks.

Giving blood, Giving life
By Jeff Knapp

It's the blood that keeps us going. The life of a person is dependent on the blood that flows through their veins. Giving blood is a simple act that can make a big difference in someone's life. The American Red Cross is currently accepting donations of whole blood, platelets, and plasma. Donations are needed in all areas of the country. If you are 17 or older and in good health, you can donate blood. It's a simple act that can save lives.

ADAMS Paul
Paul Adams, a local resident, has been named the recipient of the 2014 Coronado Award for his outstanding contributions to the community. Adams has been a leader in many areas, including education, business, and civic affairs. He has served on numerous boards and committees, and has been instrumental in the development of many local projects. Adams is a true community leader and his work has made a significant impact on the lives of many people in Coronado.
