Ca. judge asked to stop new Vidalia onion rule
 A federal judge in California has asked the U.S. Department of Agriculture to stop enforcing a new rule that requires Vidalia onions to be grown in California. The rule, which was implemented in 2012, requires that Vidalia onions be grown in California to be labeled as such. The rule has caused controversy because it has limited the market for Vidalia onions in other states. The judge is asking the USDA to stop enforcing the rule because it is not in the public interest.

IRS reiterates warning of pervasive telephone scam
 The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) has issued a warning about a pervasive telephone scam that has been plaguing taxpayers. The scam involves a caller who claims to be from the IRS and asks for personal information, such as a Social Security number and bank account information. The caller then uses this information to steal money from the victim's bank account. The IRS has advised taxpayers to be cautious of unsolicited calls and to never provide personal information over the phone. If a taxpayer receives a call like this, they should hang up and call the IRS directly to verify the caller's identity.

Robert Burkey to leave USD 480
 Robert Burkey, a member of the U.S. House of Representatives, is set to leave the House on April 15, 2014. Burkey has served in the House since 2007 and has been a member of the House of Representatives for seven terms. He is currently serving as the chair of the House Committee on Education and the Workforce. Burkey is expected to be replaced by a new member of the House in the upcoming election.
