By Kurt Owen
KANSAS CITY
The Coronado Museum is pleased to announce that a new exhibit, "Coronado: Mexican Immigration," will be on display from May 3 to June 15. The exhibit, which features a variety of artifacts, photographs, and documents, tells the story of the Mexican immigrants who worked on the Coronado Hotel and the impact they had on the city's history.

TAX DAY ALERT
IRS reiterates warning of pervasive telephone scam
By Kurt Owen
KANSAS CITY
The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) has reiterated its warning of a pervasive telephone scam that has been plaguing taxpayers. The scam involves a caller who claims to be from the IRS and offers to help a taxpayer with their tax return. In exchange, the caller asks for a credit card number and a PIN. The IRS has warned that this is a scam and that taxpayers should never provide this information to anyone who calls them.

Ca. judge asked to stop new Vidalia onion rule
By Kurt Owen
KANSAS CITY
A federal judge in California has been asked to stop a new rule that would require Vidalia onions to be grown in California. The rule, which was issued by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, would require that all Vidalia onions sold in the United States be grown in California. This rule has been controversial because it would effectively end the production of Vidalia onions in other states, such as Georgia and South Carolina.
